Nazi Oil Refineries Turned Into Roaring Pillars of Fire By Record Fleet of Bombers

LONDON, June 20.—A record fleet of Allied heavy bombers and fighters blasted four big Nazi oil centres into roaring pillars of fire today. The mighty blow at the heart of the German war machine evoked only meagre opposition from the battered Luftwaffe.

Switching suddenly from the many campaigns against enemy targets in northern France, the Allied air command sent well over 1,000 planes to attack four major oil refineries at Hamburg, Hanover, Mideburg and Potsdam.

Other attacks were carried out over Dover to smash the third time in 24 hours at the port's plant catapults in the Pas de Calais area.

The staggering blow at Germany's fast-growing oil resources was carried out by 1,000 planes which bombed the sky giants to lay their huge explosives and incendiaries steadily on the ground.

TOVERING FIRES

They came from over their objectives almost unopposed and left great billowing columns of smoke and flame which could be seen in the air. While two hundred miles away on their homeward flight, the clouds of smoke and fire still hung in the clouds, evidence of the success of their attack.

CHUNGKING, June 20.—Japanese forces have broken into and probably captured Changsha, the capital of Hunan province, after a whirlwind three-week offensive through Human province, and are now moving to Chongqing to isolate it from the Chinese western allies, a communiqué has disclosed.

More than 50,000 Japanese shock troops, including picked veterans, rushed down from Manchuria, the last to assault on Changsha after a whirlwind three-week offensive through Human province, and are now moving to Chongqing to isolate it from the Chinese western allies, a communiqué has disclosed.

By midday the city's outer defences were beaten flat and the invaders smashed into the streets, while fighting fighter planes turned the burning buildings into flaming torches.

Bitter street fighting ranged on until nightfall when Chongking lost its last defenders, and it was indicated they had been forced to surrender the city, a key point on the Canton-Hankow railway.

Sixteen Marriages Recalled by Woman

DETROIT, June 20.—(AP)—Mrs. Korine Stankowich, who has recalled marriages to son-in-law, husband and son-in-law, as well as to her agents and is charged in a federal indictment with fraudulently obtaining special permission on behalf of two of them, changed her plea today from not guilty to guilty. She was referred to the probation department pending sentence.

Nazis Plan to Use Gas Against Reds

NEW YORK, June 20.—(AP)—Red Front leaders said yesterday in a broadcast to French areas that the Germans had transported "large quantities" of poison gas from Germany to make it available with a view to using it against the Soviet army from whom they dread a new and fierce offensive.

Lift Restrictions On Penicillin Drug For Civilian Needs

VANCOUVER, June 20.—(CP)—

Restrictions preventing the use of penicillin by civilian patients in special circumstances have been lifted. Dr. A. K. Haydon, superintendent of Vancouver University Hospital, said yesterday in reporting supplies available to the hospital for civilian patients in Vancouver. Previously the drug was restricted to patients in military hospitals.

Britons soon found a philosophy to fit the new attacks by the little flying buzz-bombs.

Rent for Tents

The revelation that evicted families occupying tents provided by the Dominion Government are being charged a rent of $15 a month by the City of Edmonton has aroused a very justifiable wave of indignation in the city.

It is true that the city has spent some patty sum in putting wooden floors in these tents. And if the city authorities desire to make a profit on this infinitesimal investment, it would be reasonable to charge a small rent. But $15 a month is entirely out of all proportion to what these evicted families get. There are no light or water connections.

It may be going too far to say that these families are properly charged by the city because exclusive financial responsibility in the housing situation has not yet been fully established, no matter what Ottawa says. They probably should have to pay some rent. But $2 or $3 a month would amply pay for what they get.

Surely this is a case of error on the city's part and not of deliberate policy.

Beautification

The city council has set an excellent beautification precedent in the case of the Blowey-Henry riverside property for eventual park purposes. That is to say, the present scheme does not necessarily foreclose the development of a potential site for future development.

One argument against establishment of the projected MacDonald Hotel park is that the undertaking would employ labor at a time when all available construction labor is required for housing. This is probably true. It is also a matter of course that a general beautification program in any city is always followed in normal times by a wave of home building.

Under these circumstances, most of the proceeds from the MacDonald Hotel project would probably be content in the city acquired the land immediately, as it has done in the Blowey-Henry case, with the idea of commencing operations when housing ceases to make a first demand on labor.

Under such circumstances, anything that requires more than a little is just an overnight miracle, but some solid assurance of a beautification period within a reasonable time. Immediate acquisition by the city of this property, at a time when the city will never be better able to afford it, will doubtless satisfy this assurance.

A Veterans' Department

The million or more Canadians, men and women, who have given their lives are to have the advantage that matters of peculiar concern to them in war and post-war years will be looked after by a federal department of veterans' affairs, headed by a cabinet minister. To this department will be assigned the administration of pension, gratuity, compensation, allowances and other questions arising out of the diversion of this great proportion of our population from the ordinary business of life to military duties.

The public service, especially recognizing the services of those in our fighting forces is apparent. But the reason for creating the department is practical. It is not simply an act symbolizing the nation's sense of what is fitting. It is a means of assuring that the interests of the service men and women will be given due and detailed attention, both while they are in uniform and in the long years after they return to civilian life.

This is a function which only to a point can be carried on by a branch organization of a department engaged by a branch organization of a department, having to deal with other affairs. The members of those in the forces are so large that a separate set-up is needed to deal with the flood of administrative business bound to develop. And the results are so distinctive and important as to require full representation in the cabinet.

This new department, it is to be supposed, will be headed and staffed with men who from experience understand veterans' problems. And the members of the force will thus be able to give these more sympathetic treatment than they might receive from administrators having only a civilian background.

The Drought in Ontario

Premier Drew of Ontario will have it that the Dominion Government is subjecting Ontario to the hardships of semi-prohibition, while flooding Quebec with beverages. Ontario exports are parceled, he seems to say, while Quebecers, who are guzzling without stint—all because "Quebec gets more liquor" than Ontario under the federal restrictive orders which went into effect in the fall.

Under those orders the sale of spirits in any province was limited to 70 per cent of the amount consumed during the year before the restrictions went into effect. And the amount is now 90 per cent of the pre-existing intake.

How stands the account between Ontario and Quebec? At the end of a full year of operation, October 31, 1943, Ontario consumers had purchased 1,149,519 proof gallons of spirits. Quebec consumers had bought 1,000,000 proof gallons. Ontario got away with 1.2 per cent more spirits than their neighbors in Ontario. In each case the amount was 70 per cent of the amount consumed in the preceding year.

There was no discrimination. Quebec got more because it had been consuming more in pre-restriction times.

All told, Ontario got more because Ontario drank Quebec 4 gallons to 3, during the year ending last October. The figures for Ontario were 27,947,571 gallons. Again there was no discrimination. In each case the amount was 70 per cent of the consumption in the preceding year. Ontario got more than Quebec because it had consumed more the year before.

All told, Ontario downed something more than 38,000,000 gallons of spirits and beer in 1943. And in the same period the orders Quebec consumed something more than 20,000,000 gallons of spirits and beer. The claim that Ontario suffered comparative antidote does not accord with the facts. If it did accord the claim of discrimination would have no basis, since the amounts for sale were determined by the amounts consumed in each province in 1942.

The Ontario Liquor Commission explains an advertisement why the ration of 100 proof whisky is 60 cents a proof per month—while in Quebec the allowance is said to be 60 cents per month. In January 1943 the Ontario commission had issued 155,295 permits and the ration was 16,000. In December 1943 the permits numbered 225,292 and the ration had dropped to 28 cents.

The Chairman of the Commission stated the case this way: "The increase in the number of permits and the extent to which permit holders are purchasing spirits each month makes it necessary to reduce the amount which can be purchased by permit holders in Ontario."

As illustrating this point—a man was recently prosecuted in one Ontario city for having no less than 100 permits in his possession. He claimed if permit holders could follow up that clue and jail the boot-leggers he would find that the stocks in the liquor store would come nearer to satisfying the demands of those who use their permits legally.

A farmer somewhere in England recovered a heap of money through the vigilance of a United States lieutenant. The officer said that the marks lying on an armchair in an investigation he had been lost from a trailer in which the farmer's effects had been moved to a new home. But that the discovery brought joy to the farmer or a reward to the finder is not recorded. Whether the farmer paid the $200 for the junk back in 1922, he probably values the marks mainly as reminders of what inflation can do.

A Special Priority Plan for Bay Customers!

Make Reservations Now for Purchases of Major Appliances

It is impossible to predict when appliances such as washing machines, electric ironers, refrigerators, radios, ranges, vacuum cleaners, etc., will again be available, but when they are there's sure to be an unprecedented demand for them. So, to insure a fair and orderly distribution of these appliances as they become available, we have decided to institute a Priority Plan. This plan is perfectly simple. It will, we believe, prove a helpful service to our customers as well as being useful to our suppliers in giving them an indication of public needs. There is no obligation on your part. Simply fill in the priority coupon below and it will be placed on the list in the order of its receipt. You see before you buy! Upon the arrival of the merchandise, you will be notified and you may then make your selection if you wish. You will not be obligated in any way.

Please use coupon below . . . no reservations can be made by telephone.

Store Official Here

J. W. Butterfield, Vancouver, general manager, Woodward Departmental Stores, arrived in Edmonton Tuesday on a routine inspection trip.

Dies Suddenly

Clare Darling Dies Suddenly At Fort Smith

E. Clare Darling, well known Edmonton barrister, who recently became stipendiary magistrate for the Northwest Territories, was found dead in his room at Fort Smith on June 18. He had been a member of the Canadian Legion officials here. He was 50 years old.

He apparently died Saturday night, but his body was not found until Sunday morning.

Born in Auburn, Indiana, Mr. Darling came to Edmonton in 1906. He served in the Canadian Field Artillery in the First Great War and was a member of the Royal Canadian Field Artillery. After the war he was appointed stipendiary magistrate for the Northwest Territories and remained at Fort Smith at the northern administration centre.

Is Appointed

He returned to the city from Eastern Canada and started his practice again, and then on May 18 received the appointment of stipendiary magistrate, going to Fort Smith on June 18.

As active member of the Canadian Legion Mr. Darling represented that organization at several executive meetings in the movement.

Surviving are his widow, 1607 12th street; a son, Mr. Larry, a student at the University of Alberta; a daughter, Mrs. G. McGregor, 2005 10th Street; a son, Alexander; a hospital; and one sister, Mrs. J. B. Jameson, of Edmonton.

Mr. Darling will be buried Saturday at 1 P.M. at the C.R.C.A.F. plane and埋葬仪式, arrangements are underway for a funeral service Wednesday under the sponsorship of the Canadian Legion.

Mr. Marion, president of the Canadian Legion, said: "I am sorry to hear of his death. He was a good citizen and a good lawyer. He will be missed by all who knew him."

Several weeks ago in a statement released to the press, Mr. Manning himself demanded that the so-called hidden reserves be revealed. He made the demand in the course of a statement in reply to remarks of the opposition leader in the House of Commons.

Davidson, president of the Canadian Legion, said: "We are sorry to hear of his death. He was a good man and a good lawyer. He will be missed by all who knew him."

The committee members have issued a statement to the Canadian government, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Minnesota. During its tour, the system in Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia will be scrutinized.

This brings another item under the heading of the control now in effect for most other domestic fruits and vegetables.

As a result of this, the consumer price will probably go up than prior to June 1, but higher than in 1943.

The longest day of the year is tomorrow, June 21, sun rises at 5:53 a.m. and sets at 10:06 p.m. In comparison, the shortest day of the year is Dec. 21, only 8 hours and eight minutes of daylight. Sun rises at 6:48 a.m. and sets at 5:16 p.m.

Premier Ernest Manning Contends Chartered Banks Secret Safe With Minister

Hidden reserves of Canada's chartered banks, recent subject of a three-week debate by the House of Commons committee on banking, came up for sharp discussion Monday night at a public meeting sponsored by Edmonton Social Credit Community Association, held at 9974 Jasper avenue.

The meeting was opened by Hon. J. L. Ilsley, minister of finance, Premier Ernest Manning, guest speaker at the meeting, stated in a question period following his address.

Mr. Manning had been asked: "What do you know as to where the hidden reserves are?" by John Guild, a past president of the Canadian Legion.

"No, I do not know," the premier answered.

Mr. Manning's answer was the topic of "The Scene's". He said there was need in the fields of social reform and economic security, and of getting up movements so that all people would have adequate purchasing power.

Many persons, he went on, would be better off if the secret bank contributions after the war was over would be worse if the present principles of banking and finance remain without change.

Another problem lies in getting the public to realize that sinister things were not based on honest principles. It is not difficult to see that if this is happening, Mr. Manning stated, the public would have major repair jobs on their hands within a short period.

Some persons, he said, would like to have all of the rentals being charged by the city for accommodation.

The secretary was invited to add to the council at its next meeting.

It was decided to hold only one meeting of the council during the months of July and August.

Sure Of It

Premier Ernest Manning, who addressed a Social Credit meeting here Monday night expressed his opinion that Hon. J. L. Ilsley, minister of finance never will reveal the hidden reserves of Canada's chartered banks.

During the discussion of the report, members of the Social Credit party were critical of the laxity of the enforcement of present building regulations. It was charged that bad-looking houses, which were not safe, were allowed to stand.

The inspectors, and delegates predicted that persons purchasing houses in a country section would have major repair jobs on their hands within a short period.

Some persons, he said, would like to have all of the rentals being charged by the city for accommodation.

The secretary was invited to add to the council at its next meeting.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Make Use of Child Power During Summer

Scrap Paper Drive Proved Youths Willing to Co-operate When Needs Arise in Home; Children Restless Without Work

Vacation time is upon us and millions of mothers and workers are being driven to the verge of insanity by the incessant cries of their offspring. Mother, if you must needs—Mother, gimme a dime for a chocolate soda. Mo-o-here, can't I go to the movies? I want to eat at the commissary. Mo-o-here, can't I have a date with Johnnie? And so on and on.

The answer is simple, those rich enough to pass the buck to summer camps, the day when school lets out, will be the ones to wrath as they do the judgments. But when their children are turned out to wander over roads like an invading army, leaving wrecked nerves and broken furniture, devastated pantries behind them.

WORRIES MULTIPLIED

And what to do with all this, a host of youthful energy and restlessness? Give the little hands busy and find amusement for those who have not yet learned to entertain themselves. Encourage them from getting in with a gang and Soose from going boy-crazy. Preach to them that the hair of the young is like the hair of the old, and that the hair of the old is like the hair of the young.

To the mothers who are wailing that they don't know what to do with their children during vacation, I would simply offer this suggestion:

"Let the children go to the playground or to the beach, or to the land where there are youngsters. Greet this activity as so often mentioned, as a good way to get rid of energy and make it help turn the wheels. The reason children are so often restless is because during the school year they are kept busy. This time is raised and vacation time when they are turned out on their own, they are busier to be dead. They don't know what to do."

Nothing is more ironic than that the world is full of over-worked mothers, while their children are given the benefit of a free gymnasium for exercise. And if Mother would dress up in her best clothes among her boys and girls and make each responsible for his or her own self-care, she would have a breakdown and bring the whole family together on a basis of mutual understanding.

CHILDREN LIKE TO CO-OPERATE

And don't say it can't be done. I can. Children are always cooperative with their parents if the parents will let them share in whatever is being done and permit them to help. If you can't afford to get some credit, it is when Mother and Father both show the how and treat them like little slaves that they rebel.

Furthermore, letting children have a hand in the home makes them a practical education just as valuable as anything that could be taught in school. The boys and girls who have been taught how to market and cook and darn and patch will make the world a better place to live in. They will be above rubies in the servileness era we are facing and will be the ones to get the divorce court. For who would marry with a mate who could cook and clean and brew coffee eddied him to all who parts of it?

The next thing that children do in collecting scrap and paper give ample proof of their ability to turn their energies into useful products. Let us not forget that we longer waste the child-power of the land.

The hard-working officers of the Cleveland Y.M.C.A., the organization sponsoring the scrap and her victory was very popular.

Sam Rockwell is one of the old-timers who has been here since he played today's hand very well. When he counted his tickets, he was only 11 in right, but he found himself in the lead.

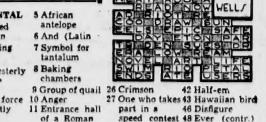

Rockwell did his best and let a few aside for funnies.

Another heart was ruffed with the ace of trumps, and dummy came through with a king of diamonds. The second heart was ruffed with the king of trumps, and a trump was led to dummy three cards and club was taken. Rockwell discarding his losing diamond in the last round. The ace of clubs was led and dummy accounted for the remaining tricks.

It is estimated that the big attack on Letting up during February, 1946, in which 16 R.C.A.F. bombers were lost, cost Canada more than $4,000,000.

Edith O. and Sam Rockwell of Cleveland, Mrs. Bonner is one of the two thousand mixed pair events at the Ohio State Tournament, won by Mrs. C. J. Bonner of South

Miss Katherine Muriel Kidd Becomes Bride L. G. Barlow

The chaperon of St. Stephen's College, decorated with pink and white peonies, was the scene of the wedding Monday at 3 p.m. Katherine Muriel Kidd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Kidd, and Lloyd G. Barlow, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barlow, were all dressed in white. The Rev. Dr. Elliott performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. George Leduc played the wedding music. Given in marriage by her father.

Irene Haanen Becomes Bride

A marriage of interest took place Saturday at the home of the reverend Mr. Douglaston, where Irene Haanen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Haanen of Athabasca, became the bride of Elder Robinson, son of Raymond Robinson, of Edmonton, and the late Mrs. Robinson.

The bride wore a white silk jersey frock, white straw hat and white accessories. A corsage of gardenias and red roses completed her ensemble.

The bridegroom was her brother, Edward MacIntosh, who wore a printed silk jersey frock, black hat and accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Raymond Robinson was best man.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bridegroom.

Later the couple left for a honeymoon at the Princess Hotel, Vancouver, the bride travelling in a dark green dress with a white sash, black collar and black accessories.

Upon their return to the city, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson will return to Norman Wells, N.W.T., where the bridegroom is employed.

Auxiliary to Hold Tea, Cooking Sale

A June tea and sale of home cooking, under the auspices of Western Home Social Credit Women's Auxiliary, will be held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Smith, 1013 1/2A street, Thursday from 2 to 5 p.m. A price of 10 cents to 10 p.m. Glen Kendrick will receive with Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. B. J. Jameson and Mr. W. Whittington will preside at the tea table, and assisting in serving will be Mrs. David Keating, Mrs. John Westcott, and Mrs. George Napier.

Mrs. L. M. Hartley will have charge of the home cooking table.

Plans to Retire

TORONTO, June 20 (CP)—The National Trust Company last night announced that President J. Macdonnell will retire from the firm's service at the end of the current year. His successor has not been named. Mr. Macdonell has been president since 1889.

SWIFT'S WEEKLY FOOD HINTS

by Martha Logan

Martha Logan, Swift's famous Home Economist, whose weekly cooking column is a regular feature of this paper. Look for these valuable hints every Tuesday.

Swift's Summer Suppers

Tasty, appetizing, nutritious and easy-to-prepare Swift's Table-Ready Meats are the answer to a wartime housewife's prayer.

There's nothing so colourful as a tastefully arranged platter of sliced cold meats with a crisp parsley or watercress garnish, and a big bowl of salad on the side. What's even more important than these warlike days, it's about the quickest and easiest supper any woman can prepare. And nutritious?

Why the whole set-up is just bursting with body building proteins, vitamins and minerals. So take my tip, from now on plan to serve a "Summer Supper"! At least once a week.
